ON THE ROCK—The Twitch lead vocalist Rebecca "Perky" Martin is flanked by Ted and Conni St. Pierre, as she is on their new release, "Orgone Box." The group's drummer, Bill Harper, was not available for the photo session, as he was at a gig in New Jersey—spreading hot tar on roofs.

NTL begins 41st summer

This coming Sunday, June 26, will see the arrival of participants and staff for the first week of NTL Institute's 41st summer session in Bethel.

During the week, five different programs on the general theme of human resource development will be held and, of these, one will extend into next week. The initial group in attendance will number approximately 150 participants and staff.

On Sunday, registration and the opening session will take place in the Bethel Inn Conference Center and, during the summer, meetings will be held there as well as at NTL's own conference house at the end of Broad Street and at Crescent Park School.

In the coming days, two more spaces

Voter interest minimal in last week's election

In one of the poorest election turnouts in recent memory, last Tuesday's election drew hardly any voters. Only in towns where local offices were at stake was there some evidence of interest. In Andover, where a selectman's seat was being contested, 126 people showed up to vote—of 584 registered voters in the town.

On the other hand, in Bethel, where three candidates were running for two school directors' seats—but where no one had mounted any sort of a campaign—there were only 149 voters who showed up at the polls—out of 1,512 registered voters. (See last week's paper for Andover and Bethel results.)

In towns with primary races for state and national offices but no local elections, there was even less interest, even in the few districts where there were two primary candidates. Voter totals in some area towns included: Upton, 11; Gilead, 13; Hanover, 30; Newry, 15; Greenwood, 17; Woodstock 36.

In the contested primary races, in House District 48 (which includes Stoneham) on the Republican side, challenger Peter Hastings defeated incumbent William Lawrence, 382-350. The winner will face Democrat Malcolm MacDonald in the fall election. In House

NLRB acts by not acting in Gilbert Mfg. dispute

The National Labor Relations Board regional office, in Boston, told labor and management at Gilbert Mfg. Corp., in Locke Mills, last Wednesday, to try to settle their dispute between themselves. The union filed an unfair labor charge against the company last month, claiming that management had unilaterally made a change in the contract provision governing vacations.

The NLRB, after examining the complaint, decided to "defer processing [the complaint] at this time," according to a supervisor at the agency's Boston office. The NLRB's Roy Schoenfeld told The Citizen the agency would give both sides a chance to settle the matter on their own.

Duane Gilbert, president of Gilbert Mfg., said the matter would be turned over to an arbitrator by the two sides concerned. He didn't know how quickly an arbitrator could be brought in, however.

The NLRB's Schoenfeld said that his

"Orgone Box" sales starting to 'rock-it' off

"Why were they so afraid of the Orgone box? You turn it on and get all charged up!"

Despite the fact that it cannot be sold for therapeutic purposes, "The Orgone Box," broke into the black only four days after its release last month, producer-engineer-lead guitarist Ted St. Pierre reports.

The first release of the local recording studio—The Tourmaline Music Group—the limited-edition, audiophile-quality cassette tape is also the first recording by "The Twitch," a rock group composed of Ted, his wife Conni (bass and back-up vocals), Bill Harper (drums) and dynamic young lead singer Rebecca Harper.

In less than a month, nearly 200 copies of the album have been sold—an excellent start for a privately produced recording of a previously unknown group.

The tape has so far been marketed primarily by mail, with orders coming in from as far away as Wyoming. But it is also available locally from Groan and

Revaluation shocks some; many fearful of tax increase

As promised by the town manager (see Citizen, June 8), the revaluations on real estate in Bethel were mailed out last week. Most reached Bethel taxpayers on Saturday.

By Monday morning, people who thought their properties had been revalued unfairly were already phoning the town office and making appointments to complain to the Board of Assessors. By noon Monday, Town Clerk Merton Brown had fielded about two dozen calls. By the end of the day, as more people opened their weekend mail, Mr. Brown had recorded 70 phonecalls.

That was a mild reaction to a revaluation, he said. "Last time [in 1976] they were lined up and out the door and down the street." In addition, one angry property owner had threatened to kill him, he said. This week there were no threats, no yelling, no lines. He considered the reaction quite mild.

He noted that one common misconception among people is that many think if their valuation goes up, their taxes will go up. In fact, the tax rate is set by dividing the town's total valuation—less exemptions—by the amount to be raised by

Bethel Town Meeting sizzles, but debates only lukewarm

The temperature at last Wednesday night's Town Meeting, according to the thermometer on the wall near the stage of the Telstar auditorium, was 90 degrees. And that was down by the stage, near the exit leading to the cooler backstage area. Up in the back of the auditorium—where most of the voters chose to sit—the temperature was high enough so that a number of would-be voters felt faint enough to be forced to leave.

Those who stayed, including the Board of Selectmen (minus Selectman Peter Haines), numbered less than 70. On the only standing vote of the evening—the question of helping fund the Chamber of Commerce—the total vote count was 56, with almost everyone except the town manager and moderator voting.

The question of providing the Bethel Area Chamber of Commerce with $850 for the group's public relations and community service activities was the only issue that temporarily roused the meeting from its heat-induced torpor.

60 condos planned on Sunday River Road

Bill Dunton will make a preliminary presentation before the Bethel Planning Board tonight (Wednesday) on a plan to build 60 condominiums on a parcel of land on the Sunday River Road, near the Newry town line.

Also on the Planning Board's agenda is a request for a change of use by Mary Gillies, of Gillies Realty. She wants to use the commercial space that had been rented to Bethel Craftworks as office space.

The Planning Board will meet at the Telstar Regional High School lecture room, beginning at 7 p.m.

Opinions

It was a good idea

Jane Young's motion to adjourn took everyone by surprise at last Wednesday night's Town Meeting, coming as it did at the very start of the meeting.

Mrs. Young, who was chairwoman of the Budget Committee this year, moved that the meeting should be adjourned until such time as the selectmen could tell the voters what the valuation of the town was and what the proposed budget would do to the taxes people would have to pay. The Budget Committee had, during its deliberations on the selectmen's proposed budget, also asked for an estimate of new valuation and total valuation—also to no avail.

Although a motion to adjourn is always in order, according to parliamentary procedure, the meeting was not given a chance to second Mrs. Young's motion, let alone vote on it. Instead, an informal discussion was held on why the selectmen could not offer a total valuation, or estimate, and why it was necessary to get through the warrant that evening.

Two things should be obvious from Mrs. Young's motion and from the way it was hustled off the floor: 1) Town Meeting voters should know before they vote on a budget what the consequences of their vote will be—that is, what the effect of a particular budget will be on the tax rate, and town officials did not provide the basis for that sort of informed voting; 2) There should be an independent parliamentarian at Town Meeting who can pass judgment on matters of parliamentary procedure, instead of the current method of seeking a consensus on how to proceed.

Proper parliamentary procedure allows a public meeting to progress smoothly and fairly. Trying to establish a consensus whenever the unexpected occurs is neither efficient nor fair.

Letters to the Editor

To the Editor:

During the week of July 10-16, The Bethel Inn and Country Club will be celebrating its 75th anniversary with a special program of events and displays.

My job in this program is to organize a display of historical artifacts and antique automobiles from the era of the last 75 years.

Anyone who has such items as old menus, postcards, brochures, reservation forms or anything that can be displayed, is invited to loan their items to me for the week of July 10. All loaned items will be displayed in the lobby under protective cover and with a card identifying who loaned each item. Hundreds of Bethel area people have been connected with the inn over the years and I hope that they will be proud to share in celebrating this milestone as much as the present staff is looking forward to it. Memorabilia from or about former guests, golf activities, special entertainment functions, the dining room, Bethel Inn farms, Bethel Inn garages, the opening of the Pines (formerly The Park), you name it, we would like to share it. A number of Oxford County antique automobile owners have beautifully restored cars which represent cars seen at the Inn in decades past. These owners are invited to participate in our celebration by displaying their car or cars for a day on the lawn in front of the main inn. So, if you have something to loan to our display, please bring it or mail it to the front desk at the Bethel Inn. Please make sure that your mailing address and telephone number is included.

To the Editor:

The purpose of this letter is to encourage all of our teachers and staff in SAD #44, especially in Grades K-8. I have been a substitute teacher in these grades for two years and have "walked a mile in their shoes" many times. Maybe it is hard for taxpayers to comprehend the full extent of teachers' responsibilities each day as they care for, encourage, console, hug, listen to, modify unacceptable behaviors, repeat directions, mold and even teach young people from a wide variety of home environments. It is not easy.

I would also like to publicly thank teachers for leaving adequate lesson plans, seating charts and class rules, for this is, almost without exception, the case. If I had trouble in a classroom it was usually because the children look upon a sub as an intruder into their space, not because of a teacher's incompetence.

As a parent, I like what I see in our district. We have an exceptional staff which cares about our children. They show it in hundreds of ways, often exceeding their written job descriptions.

We as taxpayers ought to tell our teachers "Thank you" as we see them around town this summer. But don't be surprised if they can't visit too long—they are probably busy working on ideas for 1988-89!

"Orgone Box"

McGurn and at selected Maine record stores.

"Orgone Box" progressive, blues and punk-band rock is aimed primarily at the musically sophisticated college-age market. Tourmaline has been marketing the tape aggressively to college radio stations—where it has been getting encouraging airplay.

Taking the tape around to the college stations is "a little bit like the first part of 'Coal Miner's Daughter,'" Conni admits, but if The Twitch can establish a following in that market, then the chances are good that the group will be picked up by a major label.

A number of majors have already expressed interest in the group, Ted says, but he is somewhat ambivalent about the prospect of commercial success.

Right now, Ted, Conni, Rebecca and Bill take the music all the way themselves—from original conception, through arrangement, performance, engineering, production and promotion. It's a lot of work, and they often end up spending more time at the typewriter than at their instruments. "But we almost prefer it this way," Ted says. "We have no one but ourselves to answer to."

Credit for much of the "Orgone Box"'s immediate listener appeal, has to go to Conni's vocal discovery, Rebecca "Perky" Martin, whose voice lures the listener into the music with a confidence and earthy sensuality that belie the fact that she was only 18 when the songs were recorded last winter.

Rebecca, a Rumford native, studied jazz for a year at the University of Maine at Augusta, but has now committed herself to rock. "I appreciate jazz as an art form," she says, "but I've realized that I'm a rock and roll singer."

Conni discovered Rebecca when she was 12, after Rebecca's mother asked Conni to listen to a tape of her daughter singing in a junior high school production.

The song Rebecca sang was a saccharine show tune both would now rather forget; nonetheless, Conni immediately recognized a quality in the young girl's voice that was uniquely suited to rock and roll.

Conni, who, like Ted, was trained in classical music, took the youngster under her tutelage and taught her to use her distinctive vocal instrument. "She had a big voice, but she didn't know how to control it," Conni remembers of her early work with Rebecca.

"Orgone Box" demonstrates just how far she's come, and gives a hint of how far The Twitch may go.

The title "Orgone Box" refers to the controversial invention of psychoanalyst Wilhelm Reich, author of "The Mass Psychology of Fascism" and "The Function of Orgasm." Reich ended up in Maine after fleeing Vienna and the Nazis, and it was here that he invented the so-called Orgone Energy Accumulator, or Orgone Box.

Reich's claims for the therapeutic efficacy of the device—in curing sexual dysfunction and cancer—eventually led to his being sentenced to federal prison for violation of the Food and Drug Act.

ENGINEERS FROM THE MAINE NATIONAL GUARD began work at the airport late last week. While the basic work on the new runway was completed last summer, the engineers still have hundreds of stumps to haul away.

Special town meeting scheduled for June 29

Bethel voters will be summoned to a special town meeting next Wednesday, June 29, at 7 p.m., in the Telstar auditorium.

The Board of Selectmen voted Monday night to hold the meeting. The one substantive issue to be discussed is whether to transfer $13,665 from surplus to cover unanticipated expenditures in the Landfill Close-out account in the current 1988 fiscal year.

The town manager explained to the board that the overdraft in the Landfill Close-out account was caused by the cost of meeting the Department of Environmental Protection's "stringent requirements" for permanently closing the first above-ground cell at the landfill.

With the overdraft, the actual expenditures from the Landfill Close-out account for this fiscal year (which ends June 30) is $37,546.

In other action, the selectmen decided to hold a public hearing next month on the prospect of increasing the sewer fees by over 50 percent within five years in order to pay for short-term repairs to the sewer plant. A survey conducted by the town manager found that sewer rates in Bethel are among the lowest in the state.

The selectmen increased the monthly rents of tenants in the Cole Block as follows: Citizen Press, $320 (up from $300); W.J. Wheeler, $320 (up from $280); R.H.P. Enterprises, $180 (up from $150).

The selectmen re-affirmed their intention to send a proposed plan for the airport industrial park to the Planning Board for approval. Part of the plan is a set of covenants restricting owners of the airport lots from interfering with the operation of the airport in any way.

Town officials are prepared for a fight on the subdivision proposal since two people claim to have options to purchase some of the lots. The town officials contend the lots are free of any encumbrances and can be sold to any buyer.

The selectmen appointed Don Feeney to a three-year term on the Planning Board. His appointment coincides with the expiration of John Laban's term on the board. Mr. Laban did not seek reappointment. The selectmen appointed Deb Dohmann to another term on the board.

Prior to getting into the work of the meeting, the selectmen re-elected Arlan Jodrey chairman and Arthur Gilbert vice-chairman. Selectmen Gilbert and Pat Doon were absent.

At the end of the meeting the selectmen went into a closed-door session to discuss the acquisition of a piece of property, plus a personnel matter.

He died there in 1957, on the day before he was scheduled to be released.

The Twitch makes no therapeutic claims for their "Orgone Box," but "Why were we so afraid of the Orgone Box? You turn it on and get all charged up."

Newry tax rate

The tax bills should be out by the end of June. A 2 percent discount will be allowed on all taxes paid within 30 days.

The tax commitment is broken down as follows. Town appropriations and overlay, $243,741; SAD #44 assessment, $278,222; County tax, $21,099; for a total to be raised of $543,062. With $45,900 in other revenue, this leaves $497,162 to be raised by taxation.

Although there is a slight decrease in the rate from last year, many taxpayers will have a larger tax bill, because of revaluation. All land and condominiums were revalued last year, to bring them more in line with current market value. Private residences taxed for the first time in 1987 were valued according to this formula. Older homes or those taxed prior to 1987 were revalued this year.

The 1988 assessed valuation of $69,091,865 is an increase of 42.3 percent over 1987, while the total amount to be raised, $543,362 shows a 38.6 percent increase. A slight change in other revenue leaves the amount to be raised by taxation, $497,462, an increase of 40.4 percent over 1987.

Boiler Room

sold at auction soon after it was closed, but the sale was aborted. The two Oxford Hills men who had the winning bid failed in their bid to get the Woodstock Planning Board to approve condominiums at the site. They then reneged on completing the purchase and forfeited a $20,000 deposit to the auctioneers and the Robblers. The purchase price at that time had been $202,000.

The current high-bidders, who plan to close on the property this Friday, are not thinking about converting the space into anything else. They plan to keep it a restaurant.

But, instead of serving continental cuisine, as the Robblers did, the Savages envision a family restaurant featuring steaks, seafood and lobster bakes. In the winter, when the lake is frozen, they envision offering sleighrides across the ice.

Mr. Savage said of their purchase of the Boiler Room: "We've always wanted it." With the recent sale of two of his home houses on North Pond, the Savages had the wherewithal to enter the bidding.

Bidding against them were Mary Ann Smith, of Norway, and a couple from Otisfield.

The Savages hope to have the restaurant open in three to four weeks. The property was sold complete, with all the equipment intact, including pots and pans, plates, glassware, etc.

As for the Robblers, Louise said Joe and his son, Christian, will be doing stonemason work during the summer months. In the winter the Robblers plan to sail in warmer climates in the sailboat Joe is completing.

District 49 (which includes Bethel, Gilead, Hanover, Newry and Upton, Harlan Doak defeated Paul Ramsey, 158-140. The winner will face Democrat incumbent Jeff Mills.

In House District 50, which includes Greenwood, incumbent Democrat Joe Walker held off challenger Don Gouin, 77-58. The winner will face Republican John Perkins in the fall general election.

While there were few voters at the polls, and fewer candidates, one candidate who did make the rounds of some polling places, according to polling officials in Upton, was State Rep. Gary Bickford (R-Jay), who is challenging Democrat Ed Erwin for the latter's state senate seat.

Rts. 2 & 5 getting partially repaved—dike repair set

The Maine Department of Transportation is planning highway improvement projects in Hanover and Rumford, and a dike repair project in Bethel.

The highway improvement projects call for repaving of the existing roadway, guard rail improvements and other associated work. The project areas where work will be done in Hanover and Rumford are on Rts. 2 and 5. The project area begins a half-mile east of the Hanover-Newry town line and extends east for 0.4 miles toward Rumford.

Work will include repaving to create a 24-foot wide roadway with eight-foot paved shoulders. Roadside guard rails will be updated at some locations, while in other areas roadside slopes will be regraded to eliminate the need for guard rail protection.

The remaining project provides for the repair of flood damage to the spur dike at the Androscoggin River bridge on U.S. Rt. 2 in Bethel. Plans call for repairs to the face of the dike with gabions, rock-filled wire baskets and stone rip-rap.

Specific construction schedules for work on these projects will be determined by MDOT and the contractor. However, plans call for completion of the projects by fall.

The low bid for 23.219 miles of hot bituminous overlay in Hanover (plus other MDOT jobs) and spur dike repair in Bethel was $1,943,000 from Pike Industries, Inc., Tilton, N.H.

are being hauled to the special stump dump next to the Bethel landfill, which the state Department of Environmental Protection approved last year, with the provision that it be used only for stumps from the airport project.

Town Manager Rodney Lynch said the town is still waiting to hear back from the Federal Aviation Administration on its application for $518,000 to surface the new runway. Mr. Lynch said he is optimistic that the application will be approved eventually. "But right now I'd have to say it's standing on hold," he said. "The engineering design work has been completed, but we haven't received any official notification about the application. And even if it's approved, there will still be hurdles to overcome—there always are when you're dealing with the federal government."

Revaluation

taxes. An individual's taxes can go up if the amount to be raised is increased, and the town's valuation stays the same, or if the amount to be raised stays the same while the town's valuation decreases, or if the individual's valuation increases in relation to others in town.

In the present revaluation, the appraisers told the assessors that in-town properties would be increasing in valuation relatively more than out-of-town properties. One in-town residential property jumped from a valuation of $12,000 to a valuation of $82,000. Such jumps did not occur on out-of-town properties.

Although town officials would not discuss what the total valuation of the town is following the revaluation, it is clear they have an approximate valuation that they are working with. This is evident since they told taxpayers, in a letter that accompanied the revaluation, that the tax rate would be about $10 per $1,000 of assessed valuation—compared with $28 this year.

The lower tax rate doesn't necessarily mean lower taxes, however. In order to get an approximation of the tax the town will charge, a taxpayer should multiply the property's new valuation by .01, which equates to $10 per $1,000 of assessed valuation.

Town officials told voters at Town Meeting they will not be in a position to talk about the total valuation of the town until personal property is revalued. This will be done in July, and—unlike recent years—will be a complete revaluation of all commercial and industrial entities in town. Town Clerk Brown said he expects the amount of personal property—that is machinery, office equipment, beds and furnishings for tourists, etc.—to triple the present valuation of $3 million.

Town officials would also not discuss the approximate amount of new valuation, from new construction, on the tax rolls. This would also have an effect on an individual's taxes, since—consequently—the entire increase in budget expenditures could be funded by taxes from new construction or new personal property. In any case the tax rate cannot be set. Mr. Brown pointed out, until the total revaluation—real and personal property—has been completed.

The Board of Assessors, together with the appraisers from Parker Appraisal—the No. Windham firm that conducted the $68,000 revaluation—will be meeting on June 27, 28, and 29 with property owners who have complaints about the revaluations of their properties. However, interested taxpayers should make an appointment for a particular time and date, in order to keep the sessions moving along. Additionally, taxpayers can meet with assessors to discuss their valuations—or taxes, after they are set—at any time.

The recipient is expected to meet certain predetermined goals designed to ultimately achieve economic independence.

I'll have more issues for your review next week. If you have any questions about these or other new laws, please don't hesitate to contact me. Have a great week!

Town Meeting

The Chamber's Executive Director Robin Zinchuk argued that public funding is appropriate because the group helps the town by developing a community brochure that will be distributed to all townspeople, by providing free tax assistance at income tax time, by providing a Christmas tree on the Common, and by recognizing community participation through an assortment of Chamber awards.

On the other side of the issue, the Budget Committee's Bob Chadbourn agreed that the Chamber plays an important role, but argued that it should be supported by business rather than the town treasury.

On a standing vote, Cathy Newell's motion to provide $350 in public funding for the Chamber garnered only 17 votes, to 39 against. The selectmen—who had early in the budget process advocated the idea—voted against it.

Bob Saunders presented a motion asking for $400 in funding for the Chamber, rather than $350. But this went down to defeat by the same numbers. Gwyneth Bohr said, "The question is not the amount of money, but whether the city should provide money [at all]." Mrs. Bohr later offered an amendment to a motion for no funding that expressed the town's appreciation for the work the Chamber does for the community. The amendment, and the motion for no funding, passed.

Other than that article, the remainder of the articles were brought up and approved in rapid-order fashion, with only an occasional question slowing up the process. For example, John Greenleaf wanted to know what happened to the replacement ambulance the selectmen had promised the B.E.A.R.S., and Dave Brown wanted to know what happened to $25,000 to set aside for a new fire truck the selectmen had promised the Fire Department.

Town Manager Rodney Lynch explained, to both inquiries, that the Budget Committee had deferred both items and the selectmen had agreed.

The only article on the warrant that presented two alternative recommendations from the Board of Selectmen and the Budget Committee was Article 21, on repayment of the $43,000 loan that helped pay for the just-completed $88,000 town-wide revaluation. The selectmen wanted to pay the loan off in fiscal 1989; the budgeters wanted to stretch the payments out over two fiscal years in order not to increase the tax rate any more than absolutely necessary.

Budget Committee member Chadbourne moved the town re-pay only half the loan in fiscal '89, which motion passed unanimously. The selectmen did not "speak in favor of their view, nor did they vote one way or the other."

While that was the only article to have the amount recommended by the selectmen reduced on the floor, Article 25 saw an amount recommended by the selectmen increased on the floor. The selectmen and budgeters had recommended $1,170 for Androscoggin Home Health—the same amount as given in fiscal are being hauled to the special stump dump next to the Bethel landfill, which the state Department of Environmental Protection approved last year, with the provision that it be used only for stumps from the airport project.

Town Manager Rodney Lynch said the town is still waiting to hear back from the Federal Aviation Administration on its application for $518,000 to surface the new runway. Mr. Lynch said he is optimistic that the application will be approved eventually. "But right now I'd have to say it's standing on hold," he said. "The engineering design work has been completed, but we haven't received any official notification about the application. And even if it's approved, there will still be hurdles to overcome—there always are when you're dealing with the federal government."

Taxes. An individual's taxes can go up if the amount to be raised is increased (and the town's valuation stays the same), or if the amount to be raised stays the same while the town's valuation decreases, or if the individual's valuation increases in relation to others in town.

In the present revaluation, the appraisers told the assessors that in-town properties would be increasing in valuation relatively more than out-of-town properties.

One in-town residential property jumped from a valuation of $12,000 to a valuation of $22,000. Such jumps did not occur on out-of-town properties.

Although town officials would not discuss what the total valuation of the town is following the revaluation, it is clear they have an approximate valuation that they are working with. This is evident since they told taxpayers, in a letter that accompanied the revaluation, that the tax rate would be about $10 per $1,000 of assessed valuation—compared with $26 this year.

The lower tax rate doesn't necessarily mean lower taxes, however. In order to get an approximation of the tax rate town will charge, a taxpayer should multiply the property's new valuation by .01, which equates to $10 per $1,000 of assessed valuation.

Town officials told voters at Town Meeting they will not be in a position to talk about the total valuation of the town until personal property is revalued. This will be done in July, and—unlike recent years—will be a complete revaluation of all commercial and industrial entities in town. Town Clerk Brown said he expects the amount of personal property—that is, machinery, office equipment, beds and furnishings for tourists, etc.—to triple the present valuation of $3 million.

Town officials would also not discuss the approximate amount of new valuation, from new construction, on the tax rolls. This would also have an effect on an individual's taxes, since—conceivably—the entire increase in budget expenditures could be funded by taxes from new construction or new personal property. In any case the tax rate cannot be set, Mr. Brown pointed out, until the total revaluation—real and personal property—has been completed.

The Board of Assessors, together with the appraisers from Parker Appraisal—the No. Wintham firm that conducted the $68,000 revaluation—will be meeting on June 27, 28, and 29 with property owners who have complaints about the revaluations of their properties. However, interested taxpayers should make an appointment for a particular time and date, in order to keep the sessions moving along. Additionally, taxpayers can meet with assessors to discuss their valuations—or taxes, after they are set—at any time.

action taken by the Maine House and Senate during the final days of the legislative session will affirm Maine's leadership role in the national welfare reform movement. The welfare reform program passed this session, otherwise known as ASPIRE, is designed to break vicious cycle of welfare by providing DC recipients with job training and educational opportunities. Many welfare recipients have been hesitant to seek permanent employment because it often meant the loss of Medicaid coverage, nor did they afford the costs of child care transportation to and from work. The ASPIRE program will provide these essential services for a transitional period as AFDC recipients work to step and off the welfare rolls. The ASPIRE program is a two-way street in which a contract of mutual responsibility is established between the Department of Human Services and each welfare recipient. Under the contract, which will be monitored by a caseworker to insure compliance, the department will provide necessary supportive services while the recipient is expected to meet certain predetermined goals designed to ultimately achieve economic independence.

The Chamber's Executive Director Robin Zinchuk argued that public funding is appropriate because the group helps the town by developing a community brochure that will be distributed to all townspeople, by providing free tax assistance at income tax time, by providing a Christmas tree on the Common, plus lights on the trees of the Common, and by recognizing community participation through an assortment of Chamber awards.

On the other side of the issue, the Budget Committee's Bob Chadbourn agreed that the Chamber plays an important role, but argued that it should be supported by business rather than the town treasury.

On a standing vote, Cathy Newell's motion to provide $50 in public funding for the Chamber garnered only 17 votes, to 39 against. The selectmen—who had early in the budget process advocated the idea—voted against it.

Bob Saunders presented a motion asking for $400 in funding for the Chamber, rather than $50. But this went down to defeat by the same numbers. Gwyneth Bohr said, "The question is not the amount of money, but whether the city should provide money [at all]." Mrs. Bohr later offered an amendment to a motion for no funding that expressed the town's appreciation for the work the Chamber does for the community. The amendment, and the motion for no funding, passed.

Other than that article, the remainder of the articles were brought up and approved in rapid-order fashion, with only an occasional question slowing up the process. For example, John Greenleaf wanted to know what happened to the replacement ambulance the selectmen had promised the B.E.A.R.S., and Dave Brown wanted to know what happened to $25,000 to set aside for a new fire truck the selectmen had promised the Fire Department.

Town Manager Rodney Lynch explained, to both inquiries, that the Budget Committee had deferred both items and the selectmen had agreed.

The only article on the warrant that presented two alternative recommendations from the Board of Selectmen and the Budget Committee was Article 21, on repayment of the $43,000 loan that helped pay for the just-completed $68,000 town-wide revaluation. The selectmen wanted to pay the loan off in fiscal 1989; the budgeters wanted to stretch the payments out over two fiscal years in order not to increase the tax rate any more than absolutely necessary.

Budget Committee member Chadbourn moved the town re-pay only half the loan in fiscal '89, which motion passed unanimously. The selectmen did not speak in favor of their view, nor did they vote one way or the other.

While that was the only article to have the amount recommended by the selectmen reduced on the floor, Article 25 saw an amount recommended by the selectmen increased on the floor. The selectmen and budgeters had recommended $1,170 for Androsoggin Home Health—the same amount as given in fiscal

'88—although the group had asked for $1,389. Natalie Timberlake, president of Tri-County Mental Health, moved the larger amount. The voters went along with her request easily.

Aside from the regular budget items, voters also agreed—without discussion—to establish and fund a Conservation Commission.

Voters also amended the Street Excavation Ordinance by increasing the permit fee and demanding performance guarantees on the part of developers and utilities.

Voters approved adding two alternate members to the Planning Board. They also amended the Site Plan Review Ordinance by increasing the permit fees and imposing a separate fee to pay for the work of the Code Enforcement Officer.

Just about an hour-and-a-half after it started, the sultry session ended. Moderator Bill Cousins gave the session to a close at 8:40 p.m.

will be inaugurated: the NTL summer administrative office has been moved from Gould Academy to a newly renovated annex building, just behind the NTL Conference House. Additionally, a totally new structure has recently been set up on a platform on the back lawn of the NTL Conference House. This is called an "InTent" and will be the new location for the Sunrise Seminars and other meetings.

Next Tuesday a new season of Sunrise Seminars will commence. These are 45-minute presentations by staff members, who are a changing group each week. The seminars are open, at no charge, to all interested persons from the Bethel community. They are usually held every Tuesday-Saturday, 7:30-8:15 a.m., and coffee is available at the door. While the weekly topics will be posted at several locations around Bethel every Monday, those interested may also phone NTL at 824-2151 for the current listing anytime after Monday noon. Also available at that time will be information about any Special Interest Groups that may be scheduled during the week.

Residents of the greater Bethel area who are interested in attending an NTL program on a standby basis at a greatly reduced rate are encouraged to call the NTL office for full details. The Human Interaction Laboratory has historically been the most popular program for Bethel attendees; there will be seven sessions of this program this year, starting on June 26 and ending Aug. 21.

There will be field trips, all starting one hour after the show. All children under 18 must be accompanied by an adult to go on these. Saturday's trip goes to Tammun's Mine in Greenwood. Sunday they will go to Mt. Mica, on Paris Hill.

There will be door prizes every hour and a grand door prize that will be drawn at 4 p.m., Sunday. This is a tourmaline and diamond lady's ring donated by Perham's, valued at $550. You don't have to be present to win this one. Tickets on sale during the month of June as well as at the show.

The dealers this year are mostly from Maine: Buck's Rock Shop, Stillwater; Hobbyhorse, Fairfield; Winthrop Mineral Shop, Winthrop; Mountain Mineral, Newry; Duane Leavett, Buckfield. Out-of-state dealers are: Margaret and Bill, New York; Scott Sterling, Massachusetts.

There will be 30 exhibits of mineral, gem and jewelry from the members, dealers and friends. There will be two special exhibits, one of Tourmaline from Plumbago Mining Co. and one from the members.

The Community Change workshop will be held on Friday, June 24, 6:30-9:30 p.m., and will resume on Saturday, June 25, 9 a.m.-4 p.m. The workshop will be held at the Bingham House, the large green building just outside the NTL gates on the right at the end of Broad Street. The cost of the workshop will be $25, which includes lunch on Saturday. To register, call SAD #4 Adult Education, 824-2780. There is limited space for this session, so early response is advisable.

The facilitator for the session will be Judith Noel, of Seapoint Consulting, Kittery Point, and a member of the NTL Board of Directors. Among her many NTL-affiliated projects, she is the creator of the national health promotion and productivity conference—Wellness in the Workplace—and has been a director of the Graduate Student Professional Development Program for the past five years. Ms. Noel holds advanced degrees in education, counseling psychology, and organizational behavior.

Saunders' bail efforts

so far falling short

Alfred Saunders' attempt to raise the money or property required for his release on bail appears stalled well short of its goal.

Mr. Saunders, who is being held in the Oxford County Jail while awaiting trial on the charge of murdering his wife Joan in 1981, was ruled eligible for bail on May 31.

The terms of the bail require that he raise either $350,000 in single-surety cash bail ($175,000 in actual cash) or that he find people willing to post a total of $700,000 in surety property.

Within a week of the bail ruling, friends of Mr. Saunders had posted $150,000 in surety property, but Superior Court Clerk Donna Howe reports that as of yesterday (Tuesday), no further property has been posted—leaving him $550,000 short of the necessary amount.

Mr. Saunders has been held at the jail since his arrest last August, the day after Joan Saunders' body was discovered under the basement floor of their former home on Bird Hill in Bethel. His trial is expected to take place in the fall.

LINDA AND DON BEST stand beside their newly moved Bethel Craftworks. The craft shop is now located right on Main Street, next to Brooks Bros. It had been located to the rear of Gillies Realty.

BETHEL CRAFTWORKS
IN NEW LOCATION ON MAIN ST.
Bethel Craftworks is now open for business in its new location on Main Street, diagonally across from the IGA. The new Main Street location should prove to have greater exposure to summer tourists and winter skiers. The store has increased in size by 50 percent to provide space for its expanding line of fine crafts.
Bethel Craftworks now includes the work of "Richardson Hollow Artworks" who build reproduction fine country furniture. Each piece of furniture has been individually handcrafted, featuring hand-planned wood, square head nails, hand-cut dovetails and, pegged, mortise and tenon joinery.
Other new work will include Christian Ridge Pottery, from South Paris, who are famous for their apple bakers and Ba-Ka-Tos. The shop also plans to expand its already popular line of jewelry with the work of Lovell Designs.
Don and Linda Best, proprietors, will continue to produce their colorful designer baskets. They are pleased to be on Main Street and look forward to a busy season.

Literacy Task Force plans year's activities
The SAD #44 Literacy Task Force met last Tuesday, June 14, at the Bethel Library. The group, a coalition of local libraries and the SAD #44 Adult and Community Education program, is devoted to the promotion of literacy activities and awareness.
The Task Force will have a float in the Mollykett Day parade, in Bethel, featuring the Readasaurus Twins. The Twins are part of the national literacy campaign spearheaded by the Library of Congress and NRC, and the float will help promote the summer reading contest for 1988. Forms for the contest, open to ages 5-12, are available at local libraries. Volunteers are needed to help with the float.
Task Force chairwoman Shirley Hodson is raising funds to purchase low-reading level, high-interest books suitable for adults, to be placed in local libraries. Betsy Raymond, Bethel librarian, is assisting with the selection of books and investigating obtaining books that are available in library bindings. Donations for this special effort may be made to SAD #44 Adult Education or to individual libraries, designated for literacy books.
A master schedule of Task Force Awareness activities for 1988-89 was drafted. Local libraries will be encouraged to pick as many as they wish for participation and publicity will be coordinated by the Adult and Community Education office.
September: Basic literacy kick-off by adult education posters will be provided for library and community use.
October: Writing contest for local schools will be held on theme of "My ideal book."
November: Workplace Literacy Month.
December: Christmas tea and book fairs at libraries.
January: Basic literacy kick-off for second semester by adult education.
February: Celebration of reading festivals during school vacation week.
March: Supermarket displays for literacy.
April: Sports Days at the library, featuring special book and guests.
May: Recognition event to honor volunteers who work for literacy--including library and adult education volunteers.
A check list of tasks relating to all events will be prepared and circulated to potential volunteers and Task Force members later this summer asking for commitment to specific jobs. Anyone who would like to be involved in any of the planned activities is asked to contact Shirley Hodson, the SAD #44 Adult and Community Education office or their local library.
Cathy Newell, director of Adult Ed, reported on adult literacy plans for next year, including training for tutoring planned for the fall. A major focus for 1988-89 will be on student recruitment. Adult education tutors and teachers will have a materials training session in late August and are invited to participate in the SAD #44 district workshop on writing, Oct. 3. This all-day session will have special workshops for those who work with adults and those who work instructing in one-to-one and small-group settings.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Kimball are being congratulated on the birth of a granddaughter, Brianna Dee Tuominen, in Yarmouth, June 2. Bruce and Vela Kimball Tuominen, of Yarmouth, are the parents.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Smith attended the graduation of their granddaughters, Andrea Smith and Beth Burgher, in South Paris, July 9. On June 11 they attended a birthday party for James Bernard in Andover. On Sunday they visited Mrs. Nellie Olson at Victoria Manor in Canton.

Mr. and Mrs. Dick Blanchard, of Cumberland, visited Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hastings on June 11. Mrs. Barbara Hastings Hokala is spending the summer in Bethel at the former Ned Hastings house.

Mrs. Dorothy Bartlett and Mrs. Neda Bartlett were in Plattsburg, N.Y., visiting Mr. and Mrs. Paul Thatcher over the weekend of June 11.

Carlton Tyler, of Carmel, visited Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Tyler, June 10.

Mrs. Vela Tuominen, of Yarmouth, visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Kimball, the week of June 12.

Mrs. Merle Long, of Australia, called on Mr. and Mrs. Chester Kimball, June 13.

Mrs. Fay Kimball and Mrs. Flossie Berner were in Rumford recently.

Mrs. Linda Westleigh and Eric, Mrs. June Stearns, of Rumford Corner, and I were in Berlin June 11, shopping. John Foster, of Andover, visited me June 14 and filled the mailbox.

I don't know what we've got for animals hanging around here now. Deny Wilson heard it a few nights ago. Last night around 12 we were all awakened by it in our dooryard. It seems Maine is one of the few states that has dooryards, but before you laugh, look it up in the dictionary. It's in there. With every breath it emitted a high-pitched "Hee" followed by a grunting sort of noise. We couldn't get a light on it to see anything but eyes. It went onto the hill across the road and we heard a second one near the house again. The ground is too hard to see footprints. Do you woodsmen have any ideas what this is?

PEDESTRIAN DEATHS INCREASE

A report from the state Bureau of Safety indicates that pedestrians are being killed on Maine's road at an alarming rate this year.

As of June 15, there were 20 pedestrian fatalities, compared with 26 for all of 1987. These accidents have occurred on every type of road, including interstate. Fourteen of the accidents were attributed to pedestrian error and six to driver error.

The Governor's Highway Safety Representative, Richard Perkins, offers the following tips to help make the roads safer for everyone:

Drivers should be alert for pedestrians everywhere and at any time and should yield to them. Remember, children are unpredictable and are likely to dart into traffic unexpectedly.

Pedestrians should walk on the left side of the road, facing traffic. Stay off the paved portion of the roadway and, if you must walk along the road at night, wear light colored clothing.

Parents should make certain their children understand that they must stay off the paved, traveled portion of the roadway and be alert for any traffic.

FINNISH-AMERICAN FESTIVAL NEXT SATURDAY AT OHHS

Low-interest loans for home improvements available from state

The lowest interest rate on a home repair or improvement program the Maine State Housing Authority has offered in this decade highlights a new Maine State Housing Authority program starting today (Wednesday).

MSHA Director Elizabeth Mitchell said homeowners with gross annual incomes of $27,500 or less will be eligible to borrow up to $15,000 at a 5 percent interest rate, and have up to nine years to repay the loan.

The loans can be used to finance most projects that improve the basic livability or energy efficiency of the home, Mrs. Mitchell said. Eligible for the loans are single-family homes, mobile homes, condominiums, and two- to four-unit owner-occupied homes.

"We are initially making $2 million available from the five participating Maine lenders," Mrs. Mitchell said. "If demand for the 5 percent loans exceeds that amount, and we expect it will, we are prepared to sell tax-exempt revenue bonds to make up to $5 million available."

The loans are available on a first-come, first-served basis from the Casco Northern Bank, Franklin Savings Bank, Gardner Savings Institution, Maine Savings Bank, and Peoples Heritage Bank. Prior to applying for a loan, borrowers will need to show lenders an estimate for the cost of materials and labor, or materials alone, if they plan to do the work themselves.

NOTES FROM Evans Notch District White Mountain National Forest

The renovation and addition of 1,560 square feet to the U.S. Forest Service office on Bridge Street is completed, according to District Ranger Chad Converse.

Richard Foster, of Mid-Maine Contractors, Inc. of Litchfield, was the primary contractor, with much of the carpentry work being done by Bob Bower Construction. Wayne Cummings, of Bethel, was the taping/painting subcontractor, while Western Maine Supply Co. of Bethel provided most of the materials.

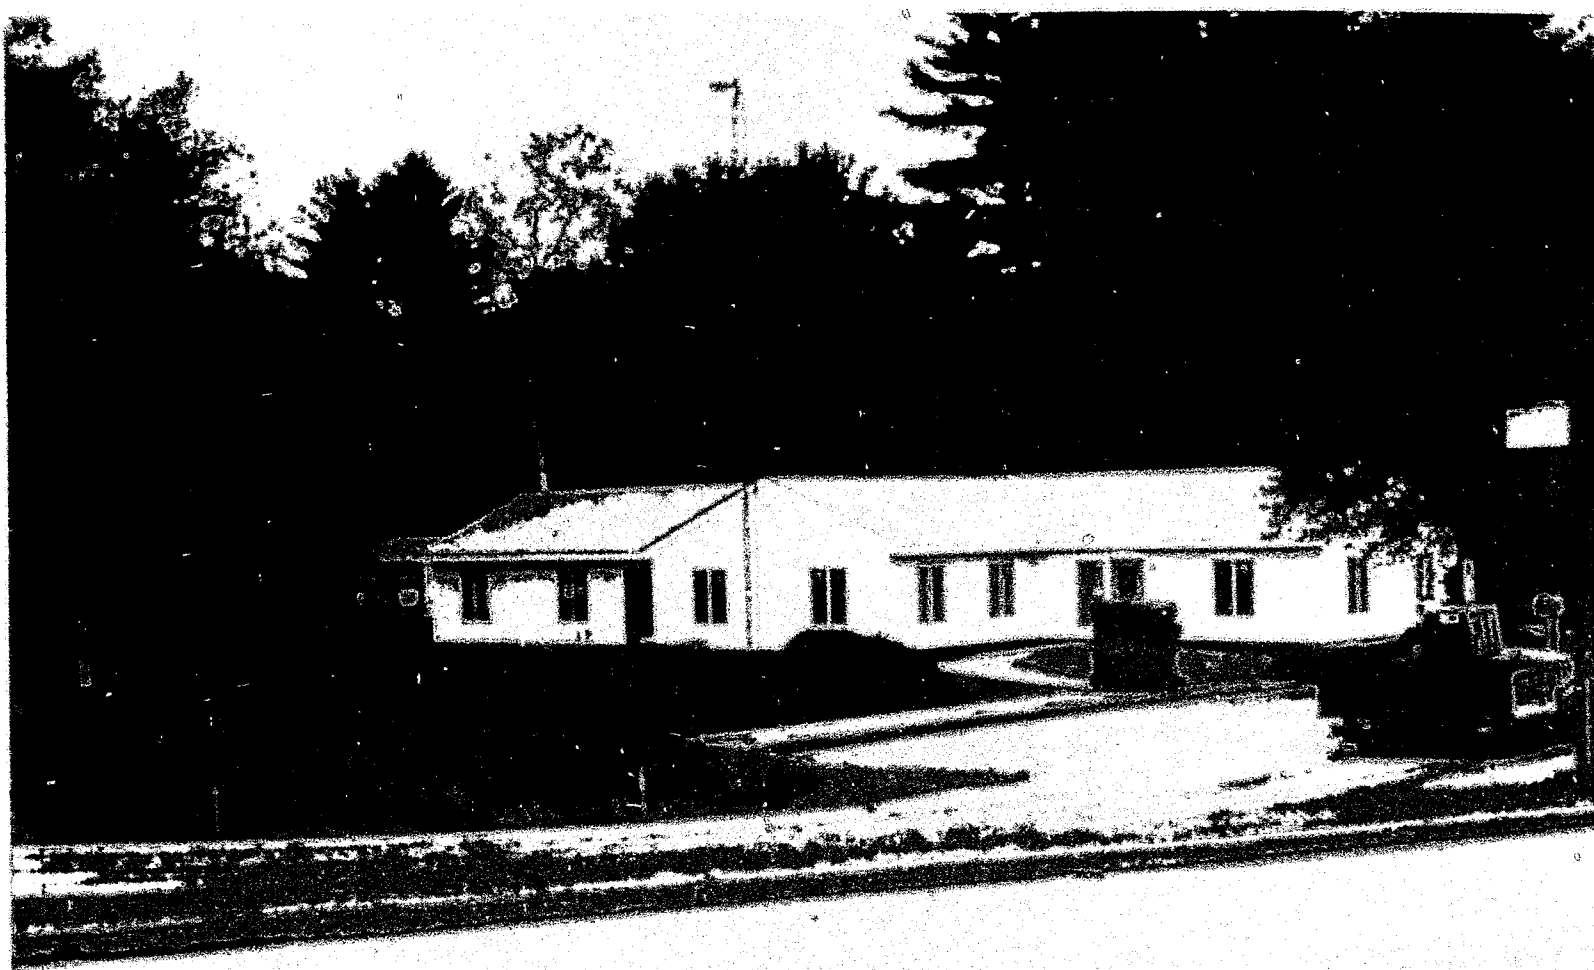

The project was completed in only two months. The Forest Service appreciated Mid-Maine's efforts to complete the work before the 1988 summer tourist season even though they had until Aug. 1 by the terms of the contract.

During construction, the Forest Service had to vacate their building. Paul Bray and his staff at the Bethel Area Health Center agreed to provide temporary office space for the construction period, which was greatly appreciated by the Forest Service.

The Forest Service only made a couple of minor changes to the design proposed by Mid-Maine Contractors. "We feel Mid-Maine did an excellent job of utilizing the existing office and blending in the additional space," said Ranger Converse.

The Forest Service also recognized a need to provide an adequate turnaround for tourists who drive RVs or camper trailers. In the past they would have to park on Route 2 or use the parking spaces provided, which would require them to back up to exit. The new parking area now allows these persons to drive around a loop so they don't have to back up. The driveway and parking area were designed by Forest Service Landscape Architect Tom Kox from the supervisor's office in Litchfield, N.H.

The additional space should help the district personnel more efficiently accomplish their work in managing the eastern portion of the White Mountain National Forest. The White Mountain National Forest provides a variety of opportunities for people, such as timber harvesting, wildlife habitat, camping, hiking, picnicking, snowmobiling, sightseeing and other outdoor activities. An open house is planned for Thursday, July 21, from 3 to 6 p.m., for those persons wishing to tour the new facilities.

THE NEW AND EXPANDED headquarters of the White Mountain National Forest's Evans Notch Ranger District has been completed. The district plans to hold an open house in the new quarters next month.

A Tribute to Our Dad Fred O. Curtis

Well, probably he was not a famous Dad to most people, but to each of us he was very special. He was...

He was a man who gave total love and patience. As his family grew, so did his love as the world's best Dad. He was himself at all times. He had a lot of grandchildren and all of them spent a lot of time with him. We will always remember his 60th birth which shined as bright as his love. He was a man who cared deeply. "Till memory fades and life departs, your love will live forever in our hearts." We talked so often of the many funny and loving things you did.

We think of you in silence and make no outward show. But what I meant to say you more will ever know. You wished no one a last farewell, nor even said goodbye. You were gone before we knew, and only God knows why. A golden heart stopped beating, your warm strong hands at rest. God broke our hearts to give to us, he only takes the best.

Crescent Park weekly

By ALEX GILLIES

This week was the last week of school and the last week of school is always fun. Since we've finished testing and our grades are on our report cards, we can't do any work—so we get to do fun stuff!

Monday was field day. Since in PE (Physical Education) class we've been studying "track and field" we had a track meet for field day. First we saw a movie which was called "Lady Hawk." Halfway through that we went outside for the 4th Grade track meet. We went around to the different activities and did them. Then we watched some more of the movie. Then it was lunch time, and after that was recess.

Then we had the water games and the scavenger hunt. We had a sponge relay. That was when classes lined up behind a bucket of water with a sponge in it; about 10 yards away was a smaller bucket. We had to get the sponge wet, run over to the bucket and squeeze it in that bucket, run back and give the sponge to the next person in line.

Next was the water balloon fight. We paired up and stood facing each other. Each pair got one balloon and threw it to their partner. If their partner catches it they take a step back; if they don't they are out. It was really fun and felt great to get wet.

On Tuesday we started to clean up and wrote a few stories.

Wednesday we cleaned out our desks, took all of the papers off the wall and did some math tests. Boy was it hot!

Finally the last day of school had come. We mainly were just killing time. We watched a movie in the morning. Later in the morning we had an assembly to announce the awards for field day. We had to move all of the desks and chairs to the room they'd be in next year. Last, and definitely not least, we got our report cards. It sure is hard to believe school's over!

News from the Bethel Recreation Board

Great teamwork could best describe last week's baseball action. It seemed to be "hit" week for all players, at least in the Little League and Farm Team division.

Even though the Red Sox lost out to Bryant Pond on Sunday, absorbing a 22-17 loss, both teams played an excellent game, according to Coach Greg Merrill. He said the Red Sox were ahead at the end of the sixth inning, 6-4, when Bryant Pond took over the lead. In the bottom of the seventh inning the Sox recovered the lead for a while before BP pulled ahead to stay. Vince Roberts got one hit, Jason Berry got two hits and Clint Myers had two triples.

On Monday night West Paris hosted the Red Sox, treating the visitors to a 11-3 loss. The Sox' three scores were made by Wade Luxton, Josh Fogg and Jesse Leighton.

The Bethel Reds were at the Bryant Pond As on Tuesday, capturing a 19-17 win for their first game of the season. Gabe (Sluggo) Perkins got his first home run. Coach Jim Fiske said the players displayed great teamwork, that there were a lot of extra base hits and it was a very close game at the end. He said they had a few things to work on, but he was very pleased with the team's progress.

The Blues and Greens slugged it out Tuesday night with everyone getting a hit on both teams. Coach Carroll Murphy of the Blues called it a "slugfest." He was encouraged this week when they picked up two new players. The Greens had a 19-18 win, with Teri Chadbourne scoring the tying run and Kyle Moran scoring the winning run. Coach Glenn Dakin said they now have a 2-0 record.

On Monday the Braves had an 11-4 win over Andover. The team got 11 base hits. Mitch Cummings had two hits at two at the summit. The race is sanctioned by the Road Runners Club of America, White Mountain Runners and The Athletic Congress (TAC). The overall winners in the 143-entrant field in 1987 were Randy Reichel in 20:24 for the men and Terry Hersh in 25:51 for the women.

bats; Steve Remington had three hits at three at bats. Josh Otten pitched five innings, struck out 13 and gave up one base hit. Steve Remington came in to relieve, striking out three batters to end the game. Coach Tom Remington commented on Andover's Peter Misericordi who pitched six innings for Andover. He said, "Peter did a whale of a job! He struck out 10 of our batters and only had three walks."

It was a close game on Wednesday when the Braves had a 5-4 win over West Paris. West Paris was behind 4-1 going into the sixth inning but came back and tied up at the game 4-4. The Braves came up to bat at the bottom of the sixth with Tyrel Bartholomew reaching first base on an error. Josh Otten got his third base hit of the game, moving Tyrel to third base. Josh Otten was on second base when Steve Remington tried twice to bunt home the winning run, but couldn't connect. He swung away and hit the ball to second base. The second baseman fielded the ball and threw it to home plate as Tyrel slid in safely at home plate. Tim Remington pitched the entire game. He gave up four runs on three hits, struck out 12 and had no walks.

Justin Wormell of West Paris pitched six innings, gave up five runs on eight hits, struck out five and had one walk. Coach Remington said that West Paris played an excellent game, especially well defensively. They committed only two errors. Josh Otten went three for three for the Braves and Steve Remington upped his on-base percentage. In the first six games of the season he has reached base safely 19 times in 23 plate appearances. Coach Remington had this to say: "I'm really pleased for the Bethel Braves because when we put this team together three years ago, we won two games that year and lost 13. This year there's six wins and no losses. The team has worked exceptionally hard to get to where they are today. We hope to continue to work hard and stay on the winning track."

This wraps up another week of baseball, the game where you learn to win and lose and what teamwork is all about.

Still hot and humid this morning as I sit down to type. Hope everyone is standing the heat alright. It seems so hot I think because of having such cool weather most of the time till this hit us. Seems as though we notice it more. We sure hope we get some cooler weather as well as some rain, real soon.

Peggy took me and Russell to town on Friday to do some shopping and get our groceries. She needed some as well so it worked out fine. Have extra errands that need doing once in a while and that was the case on Friday.

We all tried to take it easy on Saturday as we wanted to go to the dance at Greene in the evening. We even took a nap in the afternoon to keep us going. There sure was a large crowd there and the hall was full. One hundred seventeen was the number I heard for a count of folks there. It was hard to do the contra dances with so many on the floor and folks go there to dance, not sit on the side lines. That is why it is so much fun. Done more than I should have by the feelings of my legs, but the summer months play havoc with my leg trouble anyway. Too much humidity or something and no one knows of any help. Grin and bear it and do lots of exercising to see if it will help to loosen the muscles so they will feel better. Sometimes it works and sometimes it doesn't. Been trying to walk a mile most days to see if it will help as well as doing some exercises given me at the Rehab Hospital last fall, but it does not always work.

Hadn't intended doing too much on Sunday but Russell started picking the spinach as it was heading. Wynona called to say they would be out for lunch so I got things ready to cook for that while Russell picked spinach. Peggy came down to help him. I got containers ready for freezing what there was and got everything ready for lunch. Had the spinach all washed before lunch and as soon as the dishes were done Russell and I froze what there was. We had had a good amount of spinach for lunch and it was very good. Put up eight punts and a half. It will taste good next winter. Froze some containers of rhubarb the other day, also. The wind and hail from the storm we had a while ago had broken off some of the stalks of rhubarb so I knew it was a case of take care of it or not have any, so that is what I did, even though it was so hot that day.

Went to see Dr. Shedd on Monday as Dr. Jealous is gone for a couple of weeks. That was in the forenoon and in the afternoon Peggy took Russell for a check up. That has doctor and went to a doctor herself. Having a sore throat and needed attention. That was when I did the rhubarb for freezing and made cole slaw for Russell, as well as making applesauce. Kept busy and out of mischief as I had walked a mile before doing that. It is lovely to see all that goes on in the trees beside the road as I walk along. The songs of the birds keep me company and it is so amazing when one stops to think about it to see the changes that take place so fast. How fast the leaves grew to size and the difference in colors, the ferns so pretty and in their green attire. No water going in the ditches now or down through the woods on the lower side of the road. No tinkle of the water running as there was a short time ago. So many changes for one to notice if they will.

Tuesday was wash day for Russell and he put out two loads. Had planned to do

Still hot and humid this morning as I sit down to type. Hope everyone is standing the heat alright. It seems so hot I think because of having such cool weather most of the time till this hit us. Seems as though we notice it more. We sure hope we get some cooler weather as well as some rain, real soon.

Peggy took me and Russell to town on Friday to do some shopping and get our groceries. She needed some as well so it worked out fine. Have extra errands that need doing once in a while and that was the case on Friday.

We all tried to take it easy on Saturday as we wanted to go to the dance at Greene in the evening. We even took a nap in the afternoon to keep us going. There sure was a large crowd there and the hall was full. One hundred seventeen was the number I heard for a count of folks there. It was hard to do the contra dances with so many on the floor and folks go there to dance, not sit on the side lines. That is why it is so much fun. Danced more than I should have by the feel of my legs, but the summer months play havoc with my leg trouble anyway. Too much humidity or something and no one knows of any help. Grin and bear it and do lots of exercising to see if it will help to loosen the muscles so they will feel better. Sometimes it works and sometimes it doesn't. Been trying to walk a mile most days to see if it will help as well as doing some exercises given me at the Rehab Hospital last fall, but it does not always work.

Hadn't intended doing too much on Sunday but Russell started picking the spinach as it was heading. Wynona called to say they would be up for lunch so got things ready to cook for that while Russell picked spinach. Peggy came down to help him. I got containers ready for freezing what there was and got everything ready for lunch. Had the spinach all washed before lunch and as soon as the dishes were done Russell and I froze what there was. We had had a good amount of spinach for lunch and it was very good. Put up eight pints and a half. It will taste good next winter. Froze some containers of rhubarb the other day. Also the wind and hail from the storm we had a while ago had broken off some of the stalks of rhubarb so knew it was a case of take care of it or not have it, so that is what I did, even though it was so hot that day.

Went to see Dr. Sheel on Monday as Dr. Jealous is gone for a couple of weeks. That was in the forenoon and in the afternoon Peggy took Russell for a check up. Got his doctor and went to a doctor herself. Having a sore throat and needed attention. That was when I did the rhubarb for freezing and made cole slaw for Russell, as well as making applesauce. Kept busy and out of mischief as I had walked a mile before doing that. It is lovely to see all that goes on in the trees beside the road as I walk along. The songs of the birds keep me company and it is so amazing when one stops to think about it to see the changes that take place so fast. How fast the leaves grew to size and the difference in colors, the ferns so pretty and in their green attire. No water going in the ditches now or down through the woods on the lower side of the road. No trickle of the water running as there was a short time ago. So many changes for one to notice if they will.

Tuesday was wash day for Russell and he put out two loads. Had planned to do

"SHEEP MAY SAFELY GRAZE"—and they do, on the Laban farm, in Northwest Bethel. Ewes and their spring lambs enjoy the rich pasture grass.

Newry

By AMY HANSCOM

Mrs. Julia Goodwin, of Belfast, visited her daughter, Karlene Bachelder, for two weeks recently. Karlene took her back to Belfast June 14. Gilbert Seeley went with them.

Seventeen members of the Mothers Club enjoyed their annual banquet at the Town and Country, June 13.

Mr. and Mrs. Reginald Bachelder went to The Cathedral Pines, June 11, for a family gathering. The 67th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Aaron Bachelder, the 44th wedding anniversary of Reginald and Karlene Bachelder, Reginald's birthday and the third wedding anniversary of Arlan and Heidi Littlefield were celebrated. Present were Mr. and Mrs. Aaron Bachelder, of Strong, Mr. and Mrs. Reginald Bachelder, of Newry, Mr. and Mrs. Arlan Littlefield, of Bethel, Julia Goodwin, of Belfast, Donald, Christine and Bret Bachelder, of Conway, Ga., Carol Ann Whitte, of Virginia Beach, Va., Mr. and Mrs. Aaron Bachelder and Krista, Jennifer, Holly and Aaron Jr. of Mars Hill, Claire and George Ramoni, Michael, Michelle and Phil, of Sanford, Brent Bachelder, of Providence, R.I., Mary, David and Shawn Stewart, of Albion, Donald and Marilyn Bachelder, of Phillips, Earl and Betty Wyman, of Stratton, Edwin, Sue and Aurora Hill, of Farmington, Doris Wentzell of Rangleway, Cindy and Heidi Emmertson, Wilma Stewart and Helma Caldwell, all of Thornley, Ralph and Sharon Caldwell and children, of Stratton, and Arlene Myshral, Cathy and Cheryl, of Mexico.

Reginald Bachelder did his good deed again this year by cutting Gilbert Seeley's lawn, because she has a hard time keeping up with the first growth of the season. Reg has been doing this for the past few years and it is greatly appreciated. Once when she was thanking him and telling him that he didn't have to do that he replied, "We are neighbors aren't we?" Happy Father's Day in the next year—God bless.

THIS WEEK AT THE Moses Mason House

As part of a senior project at Gould Academy during May, Gould seniors, Rob Ouwinga and Kevin Plante, completed the mapping of Woodland Cemetery, one of Bethel's most historic cemeteries. They also completed an inventory of the major lots with the key names as well as subsidiary names which will make it easier to locate particular graves. Both the map and the inventory have been presented to the Bethel Historical Society under whose jurisdiction the project was undertaken and completed. This resource will be of particular interest to genealogists and other researchers and may be consulted in the Society's Eva Bean Research Room.

Recent additions to the Eva Bean Research Room also include two books: Deborah Thompson, "Bangor, Maine 1976-1984: An Architectural History" (Orono: University of Maine Press, 1988) and Melvin G. Williams, "The Last Word: The Life and Lore of Early New England Graveyards" (Boston: Olstone Press, 1973). These are now available for use by researchers in the Society headquarters, the Dr. Moses Mason House.

The Dr. Moses Mason House Museum will open for its 15th season on July 1. This year will mark the 175th anniversary of the construction of the house, built in 1813 by Dr. Moses Mason (1789-1866), physician, U.S. Congressman and businessman. Hours will be Tuesday-Sunday, 1-4 p.m., and by appointment at other times; call 824-2908. A special exhibit on the history of the house opened during festivities marking Dr. Mason's 199th birthday Memorial Day weekend. Other activities commemorating the 175th anniversary of the building of Bethel's most famous house will be held later in the summer and during the fall. The house is the only one in Maine with genuine Rufus Porter murals open to the public and boasts a variety of furnishings (some original to the house) reflecting the life and times of Dr. and Mrs. Mason. One other outstanding feature of the house is the fact that each of the period rooms boasts a different wall treatment: stenciled decoration, one with wall paper, one with paneling, etc. This fact provides a remarkable insight into how houses were decorated in the Federal period of architecture and what was popular in the first 50 years of the nation's existence.

State's highway deaths hit seven-year high

Maine highway fatalities through May are the highest since 1981.

Statistics provided by the Bureau of Safety indicate that 83 people died in motor vehicle collisions in the first five months of 1988—21 more than in 1987 and 15 more than the five-year average of 68.

This is particularly alarming to Richard E. Perkins, the Governor's highway safety representative, because the summer travel period is just beginning. "Historically, during the summer months motor vehicle miles increase and, as a result, so do the number of fatalities," said Mr. Perkins. "Good weather and a strong economy are the two leading reasons why fatalities are up this year, and they will certainly influence whether this trend continues through the summer."

There were 19 highway deaths in May alone, six involving alcohol. Two of the victims were pedestrians and one was a motorcyclist without a helmet. Of the 16 fatalities in a trucks or autos, only one person was reported to have been wearing a safety belt.
